SCION OF WEALTHY FAMILY ENDS HIS LIFE WITH PISTOL

Francis B. Stevens, Jr., Found Dead at His Home in Westbury, Ill and in Financial Trouble-Widow, Former Baltimore Belle, Prostrated.

Francis Bowes Stevens, jr., a grandson of the late Commodore Stevens and a cousin of the Stevenses, of Castle Point, Hoboken, was found dead in the cottage he occupied with his wife at Westbury, L. L. to-day.

There was a bullet in his brain and a pistol from which one shot ha been fired lay on the floor beside the body. Members of the Stevens family mr. Stevens killed himself in a fit of despondency over ill-health and financial troubles.

The Stevens home at Westbury, in the heart of the fashionable colony of the Long Island hunting set, was known as "The Cottage." Mr. Stevens and his wife were alone in the house last night. They occupied separate apartments.

Never Threatened Life.

Mrs. Stevens said that although her usband had been nervous and desponent for some time he had never made my threats against his life. He gave to intimation of his intention to kill himself when he retired. The shot was not heard by Mrs. Stevens and the suite was not discovered until a servant intered the house to-day.

The Stevenses were very popular in the Wastbury colony, where they made their home the year round. Mrs. Stevens is an intimate friend of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish and other prominent society women.

Sympathy for the young widow is widespread in the Westbury region. The mrs. intimation s. a had of the death of her husband was when the servant who had discovered the body aroused her from sleep with the information that Mr. Stevens had shot himself.

Sam Brown with Sue Smith, and Senator McCarren came within a head of capturing the Saratoga Special. Mr. Hitchcock was third with Tangle in the latter event.

To-day Mr. Hitchcock was represented by Vendor, Senator McCarren by Voorhees and Capt. Brown by Accountant. A cracking race was expected.

The other races had well-matched fields. The weather was cloudy, but pleasant and the track fast. There was a fine attendance.

Balzac, Start to Finish.

Balzac made all the running in the steeplechase and won by a length from Ruth's Rattler, which was second all the way. Daffy-Down-Dilly was third GAMES TO-DAY. King's Daughter Made Hot Pace. King's Daughter Made Hot Pace.

King's Daughter tin-canned to the front at the start of the Belles Stakes and made the pace a hot one, leading into the stretch a couple of lengths in front of Whimsicai and Vio, under a drive together. In the run home king's Daughter tired, and Whimsicai, taking the lead in the last sixteenth, won easily by a length from King's Daughter, which heat Ferverse one and a half lengths for the place.

Voorhees went to the front in the Waldorf and made the bace. followed by Vendor. Benevolent and Accountant in a close bunch. They held this order until near the stretch, where Vendor closed on Voorhees. Accountant then moved up on the inside and Galavant on the outside. Neither could catch Vendor, which won by half a length from Voorhees, which beat Accountant three-quarters of a length.

Nothing but Ven Team.

In the September Stakes Von Tromp went to the front soon after the start and led all the way. Don Royal ran in second place until near the stretch turn, tolding Cairngorm penned in on the rall, so that the latter could not get through until too late. Von Tromp held his own in the flaish drive, however, and won by a length and a half. Cairngorm was four lengths in front of Oxford.
